Davies & Partners SOLICITORS

The New Employment Rights Bill is on its way

Alex Lyttle
Head of Department

Gareth Price
Associate Solicitor

James Brooks
Solicitor

Nigel Tillott
Consultant Solicitor

EMPLOYMENT RIGHTS BILL

Are your HR policies and handbooks up to date? Have you changed your onboarding process and probation clauses in your employment contracts?

The Employment Rights Bill is making its way through Parliament. Many of the substantial changes will pass through both houses intact.

Employment Law will not be business as usual moving in 2026 and retrospective action cannot remedy contractual or legal mistakes.

Davies and Partners have been helping local business navigate and manage employment issues for over 30 years. Contact the Employment Team to find out how we can implement the necessary changes to stay ahead of the imminent changes in Employment Law. Davies and Partners can help with:

- HR policies and Handbooks
- The onboarding process and managing new probationary periods
- Improving policies to avoid costly discrimination or harassment claims
- Updating employment contracts so all new starter contracts are compliant with the new laws

we can help you protect your business

About Us

Davies and Partners also provide practical and cost effective advice on all Employment law issues:

- Get help with Redundancy consultation and procedures
- Advice on Settlement Agreements
- Restructuring and redeployment
- Performance and absence management
- Dealing with problematic employees
- TUPE management and commercial law considerations

Why Choose Us

Davies and Partners offer a free 30 minute review of Employment Contracts

Contact

01452 612345
alex.lyttle@daviesandpartners.com
www.daviesandpartners.com